International Bat Night Pack

01.

Celebrate bats on

International Bat Night 2020

29th August 2020

This annual celebration of bats sees bat events for the public taking place across the world!

In the UK Bat Conservation Trust, local bat groups, other organisations and bat enthusiasts also celebrate bats during this night (and weekend).

It has taken place on the last full weekend of August since 1997 with more than 30 countries taking part.

Important note

Please note that some of the suggested activities in this pack may not be possible to be done whilst social distancing. BCT encourages everyone to use common sense when choosing how to celebrate bats this year. The latest government advice can be found HERE. Please stay safe 02.

How can you celebrate bats?

Go to a batty event near you

A bat walk is a great example of something the whole family can take part in. Find events here or ask locally if there are any events happening Find your local bat group here.

Are you organising a bat walk/talk or other event? Register it here.

Can't find an event near you? Organise your own

Invite family and friends over and watch bats in the garden. Or go for a walk in your local park. More tips on where to see bats here.

Dedicate some time to make your garden bat friendly and make your own bat box. Some tips here.

Plan some batty arts and crafts with the kids. Some suggestions here.

Or organise a batty quiz/board games night

What can I do to help bat conservation?

DISPELLING MYTHS

EDUCATING

RAISING AWARENESS

This year more than ever we need you to raise awareness of bats in your communities and help us fundraise for bat conservation. The increasing fear of bats and a severe lack of resources is undermining bat protection. Please help us raise awareness and funds to stop the spread of misinformation and misunderstanding around COVID-19 and bats (click HERE for some commonly asked questions on this topic). It's only through your support that we will be able to continue working towards our vision of a world rich in wildlife where bats and people thrive together.

A fun way to discover more about bats and the wonderful people working hard to protect them or is to listen to our BatChat podcast! Our first season contains 12 episodes (+ 1 bonus episode about Bats & Coronavirus) and they are all available in your usual streaming platform (e.g. Apple Podcasts, Spotify, Google Podcasts, etc) or you can listen to them here.

What can I do to help bat conservation?

CREATE YOUR FUNDRAISING PAGE

Encourage your friends and family to donate by creating a fundraising page.

You can create your very own fundraiser page on Facebook! More on this here.

THINK OUTSIDE THE BOX!

Did you know you can sell items on eBay and select Bat Conservation Trust to receive part or all of the sale of your items? If you have some bat tat that you would like to re-home why not do a bat themed sale on eBay?

DIRECT DONATION

If you aren't able to fundraise for bats this International Bat Night but would still like to help our work to protect bats and their habitats you can make a direct donation here.

There are several options on how to donate. Find out more here.

JustGiving

Or what about setting yourself a challenge and creating a Justgiving page to raise funds? Emma shaved her head for bats and raised nearly £2,000 for bats! (you don't have to shave your head but think about a challenge that would work for you)

If you are celebrating a friend's or family member's birthday on International Bat Night check our page for gift ideas that help bats!

OR

Shop online and raise funds for bats without spending any extra! More about this here.

Email fundraise@bats.org.uk if you have any questions!

Bat Facts

There are 18 species of bats resident in the UK - that's more than a quarter of our mammal species.

Bats usually only have one baby a year and some species can live for 30 years or more

Bats are more closely related to people than mice and they have excellent navigation skills - so not only will they not get caught in your hair but the expression 'blind as a bat' is totally inaccurate!

A tiny pipistrelle bat can eat up to 3,000 insects in a night

There are close to 1,400 bat species in the world (accounting for 20% of all mammal species). Globally, three-quarters of bat species eat insects just like all British bats. In the tropics bats also eat many other foods - fruit, flowers, frogs, fish, blood, even other bats!

Bats do not build nests; they hang up or tuck themselves into cracks and crannies. A place where a bat chooses to live is called a roost and in the UK it can be located in trees, buildings or underground sites such as caves, under bridges or disused tunnels

Bats and their roosts (even when unoccupied) are all protected by law in the UK due to the dramatic decrease in their numbers during the past century.

Bats are an 'indicator' species which means they are a sign of a green and healthy environment. Operating at the top of the food chain, bats keep in check the numbers of insects active between the hours of dusk and darkness when birds are largely absent.

Make a bat box!

How to make a bat box

You will need

- an adult to help you
- untreated, rough-sawn timber

- tape measure and pencil

- saw

- hammer and nails

Do not use wood stain or wood preservative on your box

It is illegal to disturb bats without a license - do not inspect boxes if you think bats are using them. Look for droppings below to check for occupancy.

Resources

Long-eared bat finger puppet

- ✎ Draw a bat shape like the one below onto thick paper or card, colour it in and then cut it out.
- ✎ Affix a strip of paper about 6cm long onto the underside of your bat, leaving a loop big enough to slip one or two fingers through.
- ✎ Make creases in the wings for the bat's fingers, and bend its head and ears up slightly too.

BAT HATS

- have fun with your friends

You will need:

- one piece of card or stiff paper 65 cm. long, 3 cm. wide
- two pieces of paper 30cm. long, 1cm. wide
- two paper bats, cut out and coloured, or in black paper

Decorate the wide band and staple it to fit your head.

Staple the bats to one end of the shorter pieces of paper, then staple the other end to the head band as shown below.

Design a hat.

Can you design a different hat?

Instead of two bats, you might like to have more bats, or one bat and one insect.

Have a hat competition among your friends.

Who can make the best bat hat?
